MAYA GABEIRA

Maya became a Guinness World Record holder on January 18, 2018, after towing in to surf a 68 foot wave in Nazaré, Portugal. After almost losing her life in a horrendous crash at Nazaré in 2013, the 31 year old Brazilian Gabeira moved to the famous surf spot to motivate her in her recovery to come back and conquer the wave.

'It took a lot of work to have a season like last year, to be 100 percent again; and to complete it with a Guinness World Records title is quite special.'

LIAM WHALEY

Born into a windsurfing family on the island of Ibiza set Liam on track to start his kiteboarding career at the age of 12. After moving to Tarifa and with regular trips to Brazil with his father, he was soon training alongside the best kites in the world. 7 podiums in the World Tour in 2014 paved the way to becoming World Kite Boarding Champion in 2015.

SAM FAVRET & LEO SLEMETT

After several years as part of the Nuit de la Glisse team, Sam decided to take fellow Chamoniard, Freeride prodigy and 2017 World Champion Leo under his wing for an expedition into the unknown, exploring the mountains of Pakistan's Hunza Valley.

ZANE SCHWEITZER

Surfing since he could walk, windsurfing since he was 9, and standup paddling since he was 13, Zane has pioneered the sport of standup paddling for almost a decade, ranking as one of the top athletes in the fastest growing water sport in the world. From his home beaches of Maui, Hawaii, to white water rapids in Oregon and monster waves in Tahiti, Zane has surfed in spots across the globe. He loves to spread his passion helping others to enjoy the ocean through teaching surfing and standup paddling. Holder of 15 World Champion titles and twice Ultimate Waterman.

JAMIE LEE

One of the world's top speed flyers, 25 year old Jamie can often be found flying down the hills surrounding Lake Wanaka just inches from the ground. Using skills learned first in skydiving, Jamie can reach speeds of up to 120 kph, weaving through the landscape. His passion and enthusiasm for the sport are infectious.

'It takes years of practice to learn to foot launch and fly these very small wings so close to the ground.'

TOM BARRER

This 27 year old from Reims is a master of anything on two wheels, equally at home on a motorbike or BMX. His agility and stunts on a bike have featured in several viral videos and led to a substantial following.

NUIT^{DE} LA GLISSE

Nuit de la Glisse was created at the end of the 70's by a group of inspired visionaries, giving birth to a true social phenomenon, today known under the French term 'Glisse'.

Today, the 'Nuit de la Glisse' films embody the origins of this trend, evolving over the last 3 decades to encompass newly emerging glisse sports, while at the same time, documenting the amazing and exciting developments in our original passions: surfing and snow sports. By gathering together different sports fans to one common and unique event for the last 35 years at cinema halls across the whole of Europe, Nuit de la Glisse has positioned itself as a legitimate and recognizable brand. The event consists of a previously unreleased film featuring 'glisse' sports such as surfing, skiing, snowboarding, base jumping, mountain biking, skateboarding and many more, filmed in breathtaking settings all around the planet.

film director

Passionate about action sports since he was 5 years old, Thierry made his first ski film at 13.

In 1978 he met Dick Barrymore, an American film director and action sports film pioneer. Working alongside him for 10 years changed Thierry's life.

In 1984 he created the first film released under the label 'Nuit de la Glisse' with his avant-garde group of skier and surfer friends, the first 90-minute feature-length film dedicated to actions sports to be broadcast on TV in France.

He then continued with the concept series 'Pushing the Limits' from 1989-94.

In 1996 he relaunched the 'Nuit de la Glisse' series with the intention of extending distribution to mainstream cinemas. These films are now part of one of the biggest European extreme sport label with the biggest distribution network throughout Europe.
